10 Tips to Stay
Motivation This Semester

Practical strategies to stay motivated and focused throughout the semester.

1. Keep a planner or calendar of assignments

Enter all assignments as soon as the syllabus is released, including meet-and-greets and extra credit opportunities. Color coding can help keep you organized.

2. Create a schedule and avoid multitasking

Schedule blocks of time for studying and self-care, including buffers. Avoid multi-tasking to stay focused and balanced.

3. Set up your study space

Declutter, organize, and personalize your study area. Adding plants, a snack, water, and tea/coffee can make it inviting.

4. Remove/avoid distractions

Use "Do Not Disturb" on devices, turn off notifications and set alarms to break coursework.

5. Move around if necessary

If focus drops, change study spots or go outside. A change of scenery can refresh concentration levels.

7. Make measurable goals

Define clear and trackable goals. Share goals with people who encourage your growth.

8. Take a break

Recharge by taking a walk, meditating, gardening, or doing an enjoyable hobby unrelated to schoolwork.
